

AN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE SDCCE SLO TASK FORCE TO INTRODUCE SDCCE'S INAUGURAL SLO ASSESSMENT WEEK

WHO: Program Chairs (PCs), Assistant PCs, and Faculty Leaders

WHAT: SLO Assessment Week – April 5th – April 10th

The SLO Task Force is excited about a new campaign developed to promote promising practices in the assessment of SDCCE student learning. The new annual campaign is called SLO Assessment Week during which we are encouraging all faculty to conduct coordinated assessments of student learning.

WHEN: Start preparing for April 5th – April 10th TODAY by going to “The SLO Exchange”

Please visit the “The SLO Exchange”, a discussion post located in the annual integrated planning (AIP) Canvas Shell, to see what other departments have done or are doing to coordinate and administer assessments of student learning. The link below takes you to The SLO Exchange where you will find our first entry - a wonderful example of the process approach used by the Emeritus program. The post includes instructions, PowerPoint, and links to sample assessment activities to model or to generate ideas.

HOW: Prior to SLO Assessment Week we are asking that faculty teaching the same course to:

1. select one (1) SLO to assess
2. identify and agree on an activity for student to perform (the assessment) that will allow faculty to determine whether or not that SLO has been met by students
3. administer the activity during SLO assessment week where faculty will capture the results in a google form (# of students assessed, # of students that met the SLO and # of students that did not meet the SLO – Google Form Here)
4. check out Emeritus Sample Assessment Activities

*If your program has already conducted SLO assessments as a result of the Spring FLEX SLO Activity (Link Attached) then we are asking your program to provide SLO assessment results via a Google Form.

WHY: The SLO Task Force desires that SLO Assessment Week provides additional resources and tools for student assessment, and in so doing provides a shared space “The SLO Exchange” where PCs and faculty leaders can exchange ideas, processes, and materials used to assess student learning (formative and summative) for student success.

Simply put, we want SLO Assessment Week to drive:

- Student Success!
 - Faculty Support!
 - Innovation Creation!
 - Information Sharing!

May the Force be with YOU ~ The SLO Task Force
